Real Estate III Gears Up For The Future with Better Homes and Gardens

The Real Estate III brand is strong in Central Virginia and has been for over three decades. As an independent broker with over 200 agents, Real Estate III has been a market leader helping thousands of buyers in sellers over the years. I joined Real Estate III in 2003 because I wanted to work with the best company, with the best management, and most importantly the best team of agents. I am proud to be associated with Real Estate III. Jeff Gaffney, Chairman of Real Estate III, announced this week that this long time independent broker was affiliating with Better Homes and Garden. The Better Homes and Garden affiliation offers all of the resources and tools Real Estate III and its agents need to step into the future. Their platform was built from a “clean slate” and will help each agent become better equipped to help their clientele. In my opinion, this affiliation is a game changer.
